

LATOUR CAPITAL

OPERATIONAL EQUITY

April 22, 2024

In order to strengthen its growth policy, Latour Capital is promoting five members of its investment team and continuing its development by recruiting two analysts.

Léa Béal Soulier is promoted to Deputy Director, having joined Latour Capital in February 2021. Léa started her professional career in 2017 in mergers and acquisitions at Morgan Stanley in Paris, where she worked as an Associate, before joining Michel Dyens & Co. in 2020, a boutique specialising in sell-side transactions in the retail sector. She is particularly involved in monitoring Santiane, Hygie31 and EDG.

Léa is a graduate of HEC Paris.

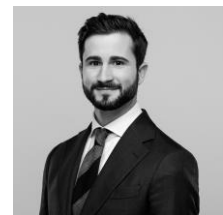

Chloé Legrix de la Salle is promoted to Deputy Director, having joined Latour Capital in January 2019. Previously, Chloé worked at Ardian (in the co-investment department) in New York and Paris, and in Transaction Services at Eight Advisory. She is particularly involved in monitoring Sulo and Kandelium.

Chloé is a graduate of HEC Paris.

Antoine Bonnefous is promoted to Deputy Director, having joined Latour Capital in February 2021. Antoine started his professional career in 2017 in Bpifrance's Large Cap team, where he participated in investments in private and listed companies, alongside private equity funds and family shareholders. He is particularly involved in monitoring Primonial and Groupe RG.

Antoine is a graduate of ESCP Business School.

Pierre-Emmanuel Guiné is promoted to Deputy Director, having joined Latour Capital in June 2021. Pierre-Emmanuel began his career in 2016 at the Ministry of the Economy and Finance. After 2 years at the Budget Department, he joined the "Transport" team at the Agence des participations de l'Etat, in charge of the ADP Group, SNCF Réseau and regional airports. He is notably involved in monitoring Oxand, Omni-Pac and Gutor.

Pierre-Emmanuel is a graduate of the Ecole Polytechnique, the Ecole des Ponts ParisTech and the Collège des Ingénieurs.

Ghita El Youssefi is promoted to Senior Associate, having joined Latour Capital in June 2022. Ghita began her career in 2020 in the Mid-Cap team at Naxicap Partners. She is notably involved in monitoring Hygie31 and Oxand.

Ghita is a graduate of EDHEC.

Audrey Signat joins Latour Capital as ESG Analyst after a successful internship at Latour Capital. Previously, Audrey worked at Mirova.

Audrey is a graduate of Warwick University and HEC Paris.

Louka Boulaine joins Latour Capital as an Analyst after a successful internship at Latour Capital.

Louka is a graduate of ESSEC.

A propos de Latour Capital

Latour Capital is an independent French management company with an entrepreneurial culture and extensive operational experience. With more than €3 billion under management, it invests primarily in companies with strong growth potential in France, and now in Europe.